Pomp And Dignity Mark Princess Mary's Wedding

THEY ACTED AS BRIDESMAIDS AT PRINCESS MARY'S WEDDING

Vast Throng Cheers Royal Couple

LONDON, February 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Princess Mary, only daughter of King George and Queen Mary, was married today to Viscount Lascelles, with all the pomp and dignity befitting a royal wedding.

The ceremony began in Westminster Abbey at 11:30 o'clock and soon thereafter the couple were pronounced man and wife, while the chimes of Westminster rang out the happy message and vast crowds gave tumultuous greetings.

The scene of the ceremony was one of impressive grandeur, with the king and queen and the entire royal household participating and with all ranks represented in the brilliant assemblage, while outside the abbey enthusiastic popular homage was given the bridal pair.

Hours before the 2,500 guests began assembling in the abbey, there being overflows of humanity in every street transverse the route. Some, bringing blankets and food with them, made certain of seeing their princess by keeping all night positions of carefully chosen positions.

Spectators See Guests Arrive

At 8:45 o'clock general vehicular traffic was diverted from the streets between the palace and the abbey. The arrival of the guests, who had to be in their places by 10:30 o'clock, was the first reward for the occupants of the gaily flagged stands and others who shouldered together about the colorfully decorated abbey area.

Only motors and carriages bearing ticket holders were permitted to pass the police lines. The conveyances put down at the abbey doors streams of gorgeously gowned women, myriads of diamonds, sapphires and other precious stones flashing from their throats, necklaces and bracelets. Their escorts were resplendent in service dress, or the velvet breeches, white silk stockings, and three-cornered hats of court regalia. It was a procession of beauty and elegance.

At 11:00 o'clock, trumpeting from a mounted escort heralded the departure of the two carriages from Marlborough house carrying Queen Mother Alexandra and Princess Victoria, with the queen's suite.

Alexandra was accorded a modicum of the applause and cheering which the crowds were reserving for the bride.

There was one-minute interlude then from Buckingham palace at the end of the Mall (trundled the three carriages of Queen Mary, the Duke of York and Princesses Henry and George, with their equeries and attendants.

Deafening Crescendo For Princess

Cheers for these members of the royal family had scarcely abated along the masses now tip-toeing in their eagerness and expectancy when from that portion of the route nearest the palace door yard they swelled to a deafening crescendo as the gilded coach bearing the Princess Mary and her father rumbled through the bronze gates.

Before the coach and the two trailing carriages bearing the princess ladies in waiting and the king's attendants had reached the entrance to the Mall, the cheering had spread half way down the troop lined avenue. The hand's rendition of "God Save the King" was unheard in the wild tumult. The sound of the hoofs of the team of bays drawing the historic state coach and those of the sovereign's mounted escort also were drowned in the cries and applause.

Members of the royal family who were not included in the carriage processions assembled outside the abbey shortly after 11:00 o'clock, where they greeted Alexandra, and a few minutes later the second party (Continued on Page 11)

HARDING URGES AID FOR MERCHANT MARINE

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 28.—(By the Associated Press)—The administration's plan for government aid for the American merchant marine was presented to congress today by President Harding, with the declaration that the influence of the United States in world councils is "sure to be measured by that unflinching standard which is found in a nation's merchant marine."

The president detailed to the two houses assembled in joint session the war time creation of America's great tonnage, an experimental venture, as he described it, and then he added: "Having failed at such enormous cost, I bring you the proposal which contemplates the return to private initiative and private enterprise, added to a conservative success, wherein we are safeguarded against the promotion of private greed and do not discourage the hope of profitable investment, which underlies all successful endeavor."

Salient Points of Proposal

The salient points of this proposal embodied in bills introduced in each house immediately after the president's address follow:

Aid estimated at $32,000,000 annually to be provided for principally by diversion of ten per cent of the nation's customs receipts:

Requirement that not more than 50 per cent of the immigrants to the United States be transported in foreign ships:

Sale of the tonnage now held by the shipping board and use of the fund as a construction loan fund.

Authorization for induction of American merchantmen officers and sailors into the naval reserve with the attendant allowance in pay.

Points Out Indirect Aids

The president then detailed a number of indirect aids, mentioning in this connection:

Amendment of the interstate commerce act to permit railway systems to own and operate steamship lines engaged in other than coastwise trade:

Making effective that section of the merchant marine act providing for preferential rail and steamship rates on through shipments on American vessels:

Insurance available at no greater cost than is afforded ships under foreign flags.

Need Merchant Marine

Mr. Harding emphasized the importance of a national merchant marine "in view of suspended naval construction," declaring that without

WAVE OF HOLD-UPS

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 28.—Robbers shortly before noon today held up and robbed the Hilltop branch of the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank of between $3,000 and $4,000.

After a hasty check, bank officials announced that between $3,500 and $4,000 in currency had been taken, and also a number of notes and some collateral in the form of bonds.

Three unmasked robbers entered the bank and forced the manager and two clerks into a rear room. One woman clerk, who did not move fast enough, was dragged from a billing machine and into the back room. The robbers then ransacked the teller's cage and escaped in a waiting automobile. Several hundred dollars in gold and silver were not taken.

The Steelton branch of the same bank was robbed last fall of approximately $10,000. The robbers escaped.

COVINGTON, Ky., Feb. 28.—Two bandits this morning boarded a street car and at the point of guns robbed two clerks connected with the First National Bank of Ludlow, Ky., of a suitcase reported to have contained $7,000.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 28.—Five armed bandits shortly after 11 o'clock today held up and robbed a branch of the Fletcher Savings & Trust Company and escaped with $30,000 in cash. Three of the men entered the bank and struck R. A. Beechold, the assistant manager, over the head as he was closing the door to a vault.

it, "no nation may hope to hold a high place in the world of commerce or be assured of adequate defense."

"The merchant marine is universally recognized as the second line of naval defense," he added. "It is indispensable in the time of great national emergency."

Discontinuance so far as practicable of the separate transport services in the army and navy also was recommended by the president, who in this connection said the merchant and passenger ships under the American flag should be used "agents of service in peace as well as war."

Mr. Harding in recommending the plan for government aid said he foresaw "the stiffest possible competition by the fleets of the maritime nations" and asserted that more than the aid of the government would be necessary.

"We need a favoring spirit, an awakened American pride, and an avowed American determination that we shall become in the main the carriers of our own commerce, in spite of all competition and all discouragements." He continued: "There can be no dispute about the end at which we are aiming."

Wheat, Hogs Up; Eggs Cut

MINNEAPOLIS — Wheat reached its highest price since May 26, 1921, when it came within a quarter of a cent of touching $1.50.

ST. LOUIS, MO.—Hogs brought $10.65 on the local market, the highest price since August, 1920.

SENECA, MISS.—Fresh eggs sold at 15 cents a dozen, the lowest price in many years.

BRITISH PROTECTORATE OVER EGYPT ENDS

LONDON, Feb. 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Prime Minister Lloyd George announced in the house of commons this afternoon that the British protectorate over Egypt has been terminated and that Egypt was free to work out such national institutions as might be suited to the aspirations of her people.

Opposition Defeated

TOKIO, Feb. 28.—(By the Associated Press)—The universal suffrage bill introduced in the diet by the opposition was defeated today by the vote of 243 to 147. The final debate was not attended by the promised demonstration, a snow storm accompanied by a cold wave interfering.

Operators Balk; No Mine Parley

COLUMBUS, O., February 28.—(By the Associated Press)—The proposed joint conference between representatives of the United Mine Workers of America and operators of the central competitive field, to have been held at Cleveland, March 2, has been called off because operators have refused to participate according to word received late yesterday by President Lee Hall, of the Ohio mine workers, from John L. Lewis, international president.

Union officials said that it is unlikely that another attempt to meet with operators to arrange a new wage scale will be made.

"Unless the operators meet in conference to inaugurate mutual settlement prior to April 1, or abandon their proposed slash in wages, a universal strike of the mine workers in Ohio is inevitable," Hall declared.

Hope was expressed by W. D. McKinnor, secretary of the Southern Ohio Coal Exchange, that cessation of work might be averted by individual conferences between miners and operators in the Ohio field.

Representative Robinson severely criticized the action of the mine workers, saying that at a local hospital, suffering from blood poisoning, Little Hope is held for his recovery, doctors say.

Must Pay $180,362,500 Annually

BERLIN, February 28.—(By the Associated Press)—A provisional agreement reached between the allied reparations commission and the German government provides for the annual payment by Germany of 720,000,000 gold marks ($180,000,000) in cash and 1,450,000,000 gold marks ($362,500) in kind, it was announced today.

Should the deliveries in kind not reach the total fixed, the cash payments will not be increased under this agreement. Thus, it is pointed out the entire should have considerable interest in seeing that the stipulated deliveries were duly made.

DRUG DEN RAIDED IN TAYLOR MURDER

LOS ANGELES, CAL., February 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Six men were arrested here early today in the raid of what police termed a narcotic den. Detectives working on the mysterious slaying February 1, of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, questioned the men. Police reported belief that the arrests will develop connection with the murder.

The men gave the names of John Herkey, William Kirby, William East, George Calvert, Ray Lynch and Harry Amorheim.

The arrests followed twenty hours of investigation by police officers on information furnished by police sources which they said purported to be concerning threats against the life of Taylor uttered a short time before the mysterious slaying 28 days ago.

According to the police, the men were sought as possible suspects in the Taylor case following a story told to an officer by a woman, also said to have been a member of the purported gang.

This woman, whose name is withheld, told the police, they said, that she had heard the men threaten Taylor's life because they feared he was interfering with their "business."

Four To Be Executed In Week

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 28.—Harry Bland, 28, Pomeroy, and Walter Wright, 28, of Wellsville, Jefferson county, must die in the electric chair, Governor Davis this afternoon refusing to grant either a reprieve.

Mrs. Elizabeth McDowell, of East Liverpool, mother of Walter Wright, who last week personally appealed to the governor for a stay of execution for her son, was told at the executive office this afternoon that her son would have to pay the penalty tonight.

Walter Wright, 28, of Wellsville, to die Wednesday.

Harry Bland, 28, of Pomeroy, to die Wednesday.

Leroy Tyler, 34, negro, of Youngstown, to die Friday.

John Burke, alias McGuire, of Toledo, to die Friday.

Wright was convicted of slaying Harry D. Cummins, Steubenville auto dealer, on a lonely road near Steubenville.

Bland killed George Washington Beagle, at Pomeroy. Robbery was said to have been the motive.

Tyler murdered a young negro girl at Youngstown. Mrs. Thomas, wife of the warden, has promised Tyler that she will see that his request that he be buried in his army uniform which he wore overseas, is carried out.

Burke will pay the extreme penalty for his part in the slaying of A. Long and Lewis Schroeder, New York Central Railroad detectives, who were shot down while guarding company funds.

Dies Seven Hours After Marriage

NEWARK—Seven hours after James M. Biltman, 72, was married, he died.

Seek To Avert Building Trades Strike

CLEVELAND, O., February 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Action to determine whether the twenty-one unions of building trades employees of the building trades council shall quit work tomorrow, tying up construction work in Cleveland, or whether a settlement is possible, is to be taken at a meeting late this afternoon between representatives of the unions and the building trades employers' association.

Hope was expressed by both sides that something would develop to avert the threatened stoppage of work, but the basis for this was not disclosed. It was said this afternoon's meeting might last until midnight.

Unless an agreement is reached, the employers have announced they will post a new scale of wages to be in effect tomorrow which provides for wage reductions ranging from 13 to 36 per cent. These terms are not acceptable to the workers, Charles Smith, secretary of the trades council, declared.

THE TIMES WEATHER MAN

Due to the good handling of weather in these parts by this bureau, those cold waves are sort of modified by the time they reach here, and folks ought to appreciate good work. Here's for tomorrow:

OHIO—Cloudy in north and probably in south portion tonight and Wednesday. Colder.

KENTUCKY—Probably snow tonight. Wednesday colder.

The extremes in local temperature today were: High, 47; low, 66.

TEXT OF PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 28.—(By the Associated Press)—The text of President Harding's address to congress today on government aid for the American merchant marine was as follows:

Members of Congress:—

When addressing the congress last December I reported to you the failure of the executive to carry out the intent of certain features of the merchant marine act of 1920, notably the provision for the notice of cancellation of all commercial treaties which hindered our grant of discriminating duties on imports brought to our shores in American ships. There was no doubt about the high purpose of congress to apply this proven practice to the upbuilding of our merchant marine. It had proven most effective in the earlier days of American shipping.

It had, at various times, demonstrated its effectiveness in the upbuilding of commercial shipping for other nations.

The success of the earlier practice for this republic came at a time when we had few treaties, when our commerce was little developed. Its supercedure by reciprocity in shipping regulations and the adoption of other methods of upbuilding merchant marines through various forms of government aid, and the century of negotiation of commercial treaties, all combined to develop a situation which should lead to endless embarrassment if we denounced our treaties. We should not only be quite alone in supporting a policy long since superceded through the growing of international relationships, but we should invite the disturbance of those cordial commercial relations which are the first requisite to the expansion of our commerce abroad.

Contemplating the readiness of congress to grant decreased duty on imports brought to our shores, in American bottoms and facing the embarrassments incident to readjustment of all treaty arrangements, it seemed desirable to find a way of applying suitable aid to our shipping, which the congress clearly intended, and at the same time avoid the embarrassment of our trade relationships abroad.

The recommendation of today is based wholly on this commendable intent of congress. The proposed aid of the government to its merchant marine is to have its chief source in the duties collected on imports. Instead of applying the discriminating duty to the specific cargo, and thus encouraging only the inbound shipment, I propose that we shall collect all import duties, without discrimination as between American and foreign bottoms and apply the heretofore proposed reduction to create a fund for the government's aid to our merchant marine. By such a program we shall encourage not alone the carrying of inbound cargoes subject to our tariffs, but we shall strengthen American ships in the carrying of that greater inbound tonnage on which no duties are levied and, more important than these, we shall equip our merchant marine to serve our outboard commerce, which is the measure of our eminence in foreign trade.

Ben Hurs Plan For State Convention

A largely attended meeting of the Portsmouth Court Tribe of Ben Hur was held last night when plans were discussed for the state convention to be held here this year. A series of bake sales are to be held at the Ben Hur home market on Glen street every Saturday and members are asked to donate articles. Last night refreshments were served to all members at the expense of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young, members, who were married Saturday at Greenup.

Liquor Violators Fined

Four liquor violators were fined by Judge Morgan Monday when they appeared and admitted guilt. Andy Wolfe, of Eleventh street, was taxed $500 for manufacturing home brew and wine, and Andy McCoy of Offshore street was assessed a like penalty for possessing liquor unlawfully. Jim Johnson and Stephen Johnson, both of Sciotoville, were fined $100 and costs each for possessing liquor.

Sauer Issues Clever Booklet

McKinley H. Sauer, formerly of this city, now classified advertising manager and editor of the Watchdog column of the Athens Messenger, and writer of the Crow's Nest in the Green and White, the Ohio University paper, has published a Valentine Day Booklet containing more than 70 of his best articles that have appeared in the two columns in the past year. He has done this as a fitting observance to the first anniversary of his Watchdog column. The book contains articles in prose, verse, and blank verse, all written in his inimitable style. His popularity is attested by the fact that many hundreds of these books have already been ordered, but others can be purchased at The Messenger office in Athens or at designated points in other communities for twenty-five cents per copy. Mr. Sauer has many friends here who will no doubt desire one of his booklets. Mr. Sauer formerly lived at Wheelersburg and at one time worked on the Times staff.

Big Night With Sciotoville K. Of P.'s

One of the most enjoyable sessions in the history of the lodge is expected to be recorded tonight when the Sciotoville K. of P. lodge entertains officers of the Grand Lodge.

Music will be furnished by the lodge's own orchestra. The third degree or Knight rank will be conferred on a class of eight.

Big delegations of Knights are expected from Portsmouth, South Webster and Wheelersburg.

The meeting will close with a big social good time.

Sunday School Bodies Are Merged

E. E. Barnhart, director of the Portsmouth District, Ohio Sunday School Association, has returned from Chicago, where in company with state Sunday school officers, he has been attending joint sessions of the Sunday School Council of Evangelical Denominations and the executive committee of the International Sunday School Association. Mr. Barnhart reports that this joint meeting of the two organizations has resulted in their merger into one organization to be known as "The International Sunday School Council of Religious Education."

Before this merger of the Sunday school forces of North America, the Sunday School Council represented the interests of 31 co-operating denominations. It was a federation of the denominational Sunday School Boards and publishing agencies. The International Sunday School Association represented the general Sunday School interests of every state in the union, nine provinces in Canada, and also Mexico and Cuba. Negotiations for the merger have been in progress for nearly four years.

Marion Lawrence, formerly of Ohio, and general secretary of the International Sunday School Association since 1890, and Dr. George T. Webb, of Toronto, recording secretary of the Sunday School Council, are on a commission to bring about the reorganization of the states and provinces along the same lines as the International Council. The latter organization, rather than the International, have direct contact with the individual Sunday schools. When they are reorganized according to the plan agreed upon, they will then function as inter-denominational organizations, officially responsible to the churches.

The merger will not affect the Sunday school boards of the various denominations, but is calculated to assist in unifying the efforts of these boards, prevent duplications and provide for more economical administration. Mr. Barnhart states that this merger will not only result in higher standards of efficiency in the Sunday schools, but will make for rapid progress in week-day religious instruction, teachers training schools, vacation schools, and all enterprises which are of common interest to the churches.

Meeting Will Start At 7

Peerless Lodge K. of P. in the East End will entertain several high officials of their order tonight and for this reason the meeting will start promptly at 7 o'clock. A big turnout of members is looked for.

Here As Witness

Robert Bratten, a former Adams county deputy sheriff, is in the city attending court, having come all the way from Asheville, N. C., where he is now located, to testify as a witness in the Wamsley-Taylor & Son vs. Breese company lumber suit now in progress before Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court.

Bratten, who for several years prior to going south a few months ago, was engaged in the lumber business at Seaman, likes the southland and is getting along swimmingly down there. He is quite well known here and was warmly greeted by many old friends over town.

POLICE NEWS

A number of offenders nabbed by the police over Saturday night and Sunday faced Judge McCall in Municipal court Monday and the court passed out fines right and left.

Jim Evans and L. R. Jenkins were fined $10 and costs each when they admitted eluding in a fight Saturday night and it cost Arthur Lewis $10 for getting too noisy, and Ora Mauk drew a like penalty for taking on board too much "moon" Saturday night.

Cullum Soaked
When Harve Cullum, an old offender, was brought into Municipal court Monday for getting drunk and raising a row at his home, he resented the accusation of his wife that he was intoxicated about all the time by declaring that he made it a practice to get drunk every three months. Judge McCall soaked the defendant for $10 on each of two charges and ordered him committed to the county jail until paid.

Owls To Dance
The twelfth annual benefit dance will be held by the Royal Nest of Owls tonight at the Auditorium, Bond and Gallia streets, from 8:30 till 11:30. Music will be furnished by Anderson's Sextette. The committee in charge has disposed of many tickets and the dance floor is expected to be crowded all evening.

New West End Grocery

R. O. Brady and son, Roscoe, have opened a first class cash grocery at 544 Second street. It is the old home of the Western Union Telegraph Company. They are not new in the grocery business. Mr. Brady had a store on Summit street for more than 30 years. The fixtures installed are the latest in grocery store equipment and all the stock is fresh from the jobbers. A truck will be maintained for deliveries. Telephone number 404 has been installed.

To Face Embezzlement Charge

Robert S. Banks, 31, insurance solicitor, held at the county jail for trial under a bigamy indictment, is also wanted at Cleveland for embezzlement. Sheriff E. E. Hickey was advised in a message received Monday from Police Chief Jacob Graul of the Forest City. The prisoner will not be turned over to the Cleveland authorities except in the event he is freed here under the bigamy charge. The Cleveland officer said that Banks was also known as Lee Johnson.

C. & O. Recalls 300 Men

The Huntington Herald Dispatch Tuesday said:

A minimum of 300 men will be called back to the Chesapeake & Ohio shops tomorrow morning, according to advices available yesterday. It is possible that this number will be somewhat exceeded when the exact figures are available.

There are at present slightly more than 1,700 men employed in the shops proper. In the storehouse 210 are employed while roundhouse employees approximate 200. These figures, added to the 300 who will return tomorrow, will bring the total number of men on the Huntington pay roll of the shops up to something more than 2,400, the highest since last August, when the first lay-off occurred.

Improved business conditions since January 1 have been responsible for the gradual enlargement of the forces toward a normal basis.

To win a race a Jockey doesn't put extra weight on the horse that helps him succeed

No man or woman who wants to succeed in the race of life can afford the handicap of headaches, insomnia, indigestion and debility. Nor can they afford to take anything that may keep up a continual irritation of the nervous system.

Yet this is what many people do who drink excessive amounts of tea or coffee. For tea and coffee contain caffeine, a substance that is sometimes very injurious. Many doctors say that caffeine raises the blood pressure, irritates the kidneys, and over-stimulates the entire nervous system. Also that it is especially bad for growing children, or for anyone who has any tendency to nervousness or insomnia.

If you want to avoid a possible cause of headache, insomnia, or nervousness, it might be well to stop taking tea and coffee for awhile, and drink rich, satisfying Postum, instead.

Postum is a delicately-roasted, pure cereal beverage—delicious and wholesome.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this fragrant, healthful beverage for awhile, and see if you will not feel brighter, more active, and more resistant to fatigue—as so many thousands of others have felt.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

C. A. Conklin Draws Fine

C. A. Conklin of Glenwood avenue New Boston arrested more than a week ago on a charge of possessing a still was fined $100 and costs by Mayor William Newberry of New Boston Monday evening. He arranged to pay and was released. Officers claim they found part of a still that was just set up. Conklin claimed it had just been purchased from a mail order house and that it had never been used.

Grange News

Sunshine Grange No. 1323 met in regular bi-weekly session Saturday night, February 25, with 45 members present. After the business session was completed the members were entertained with a lecture program consisting of: Roll-call, "Magazines I Like," followed by a talk on "How to Get Early Plants," by P. C. White. This was followed by a debate, "Resolved That the Dishrag is of More Use in the Home Than the Broom." The affirmative side upheld the Hubert Parks and G. A. Shumway, convinced the negative speakers, Carrie Pockhart and Marie Jones, that they were right. Guitar and violin music by Mr. Oberly, Towell Oberly and Marie Jones concluded the program. Plans were also discussed for the Pomona Grange meeting that will be held Saturday, March 4, with Sunshine Grange entertaining the big meeting.

Hearing Wednesday

Thad Chaffin arrested by New Boston officers Saturday and Sunday on alleged charges of adultery and disorderly conduct will have a hearing Wednesday at 4:30 o'clock in Mayor William Newberry's court. He has engaged Attorney J. T. Micklethwait to defend him.

Blankets still as soft and fleecy as the day you first tucked them in

YOU had had one pair ruined. Cake soap—rubbing—and your handsome blankets returned to you matted and shrunken—their softness and fleeciness gone.

They could not stand the old stern methods. Wool is more sensitive than any other fabric, and requires more careful laundering. Even the suds from a harsh soap or harsh soap flake will make its delicate scale-like fibres tangle and shrink.

With Lux you need not hesitate to wash your soft, fleecy blankets at the first sign of dinginess.

The creamy, satiny Lux flakes whisk into a thick lather. There is no rubbing to shrink and mat the tiny fibres—not one bit of solid soap to stick to the soft wool and yellow it. Your blankets come from their Lux bath as big and soft as when you put them in.

Increases the action of the intestines

Hundreds of men and women have already found freedom from laxatives by eating Fleischmann's fresh yeast.

Doctors are now agreed that proper elimination of waste matter should be brought about by food. One doctor comes right out and states plainly that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is one of the causes of constipation.

Physicians all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast because it is a fresh food, rich in those elements which keep the intestines healthy. In one series of treated cases, normal functions were restored in from 3 days to 5 weeks.

Try it out for yourself. Begin today by adding 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast to your everyday diet. Keep it up and see how normally and regularly your intestines act. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer.

By ISABEL OSTRANDER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Fay Tudor, wealthy orphan, returns from reconstruction work in France to reenter from a nervous breakdown, the result of overwork and the news of the death of her brother, Wilbur. At her summer home in Sandy Cove, she is met by her aunt, an attractive widow, Mrs. Clara Tudor, and the latter's daughter, Laurel. Fay learns that in the summer colony are her rejected suitor, Harry Cadmus, and her aunt's suitor, the wealthy philanthropist Kenneth Clayton. Alone in the drawing room on the night of her return, Fay is startled by the sudden appearance at the window of a ghastly, pale face with staring eyes. It vanishes and Fay fears that her was shocked nerves have tricked her.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

They might even think that her brain was affected by the horrors through which she had passed!

After breakfast she wandered off alone down the winding side path which led to the shore.

"Fay!" A masculine voice sounded close to her. She started violently, her nostrils quivering with indignation. A dapper young man in immaculate flannels with a bit of blond, aristocratic about his weak mouth, stood beside her. "Awfully sorry," he started out. Laurel told me you were home, and I thought I might find you out here. I remembered it was a favorite spot of yours."

"I find I have forgotten most things that were habits before I went away," Fay retorted coolly.

"I suppose I was one of the habits which you have forgotten, too, Fay," Harry Cadmus returned frankly. "Until Laurel told me you were at the club, I had forgotten that you were even alive."

Cadmus's need not persisted.

"You are quite sure? There is not a live spark left among the ashes?"

"There aren't even ashes!" Fay picked up a few grains of sand and blew them lightly from her palm. "They are gone like that."

He sighed sentimentally, but a light of something very like relief glimmered in his pale eyes.

"There was a kind of amusement in her face."

"There up, Harry. This is too nice a morning for post mortems. That's the sheriff, isn't it? Who is the young man with him?"

She nodded down the beach to where a tall, thin man with a grizzled mustache was talking to a younger, boyish-looking stranger.

"A police official from the city," named Larry or Harry or something. Harry Cadmus repeated. "He came up to the club yesterday to make some inquiries."

"Inquiries?" Fay repeated. "About what?"

"Somebody's maids were scared a night or two ago by something they took to be a wild man," Cadmus laughed. "They'd heard talk I suppose, because some dead cat, feline and a stunner rug were stolen from Porsell's launch. Old Bluske hasn't had anything to interest him since the Patterson robbery a year ago, and he is determined to earn his pay."

Fay was silent. A wild man. What if that face—But she put the thought resolutely from her.

As the two moved off her eyes followed them furtively.

"Do you know, there used to be a tiny grave somewhere about here," she remarked to her companion. "We played all sorts of games of pirates and buried treasures there when we were children. No stranger could find it in a hundred years, but it would be a splendid place for any one to hide out in."

They walked back to meet Laurel playing with her collie on the lawn. She raised her eyebrows at their approach. "Mother has been looking everywhere for you, Fay," she announced loftily. "She could not imagine where you had gone, but I might have guessed; you always were fond of the bay."

She seemed deliberately to ignore Cadmus' presence, and Fay gazed at her in astonishment. What could be the matter? She knew her mercenary cousin's moods well enough to recall that this assumption of cold sarcasm always indicated an aroused fury raging beneath. Laurel's temper was uncertain at best; what could have awakened it now?

With a word of apology Fay left them, but at the steps of the porch she glanced back. Laurel and Harry Cadmus were standing as she had left them, evidently in animated debate.

Mrs. Tudor announced that her attorneys had come, and the rest of the morning was spent in a maze of legal and financial detail. Fay was astonished to learn the extent of her own wealth. She had inherited her brother's share of the family estate, and that amounted to a sum which staggered and depressed her.

When the waitress brought up luncheon Fay noticed that the girl was smiling.

"What is it, Louise?" she asked. "Oh, Miss Tudor!" The girl dimpled. "Frank was teasing the cook this morning because she declared that there were ghosts or witches about, and now he's found that his best suit is gone from his room over the garage and she has the laugh on him!"

"Frank's suit is gone?" repeated Fay. "Stolen, you mean?"

"Yes, miss. Gone from his closet, some time last night, and there's no trace of how the thief got in or out of the garage, any more than he left any signs behind him in the pantry."

"The pantry?"

"That was why cook thought there were ghosts about. This morning two chickens were gone and the other food was all messed about, but everything was locked up just as she had left it."

So that face which she had seen could not have been a figment of her sick brain.

That strained, white face with the wildly staring eyes appeared once more before her mental vision, and she shuddered.

When the shadows were lengthening Fay descended and strolled about the lawn.

Near the garage she saw Frank in conversation with the sheriff's companion of the morning.

The last part of Barry's sentence reached her ears:

"—not an ordinary tramp, but some one who knows the premises thoroughly."

The sergeant lifted his cap to Fay and turned to leave, but she intercepted him.

"I'll walk as far as the gate with you; I want to speak to you about something."

"Some one else has seen the man beside those two maids," she began nervously. "I saw him. Sergeant Barry! I would prefer that you say nothing about this to any one, for I've been very ill and I can't yet endure any excitement."

"You may rely upon me," The sergeant was stammering closely.

"Did you get a good look at his face?"

"Yes, I shall never forget it."

Shuddering, she told him in detail of her experience of the night before.

CHAPTER III

MRS. TUDOR'S cottage was the smallest and least pretentious of the colony, but invitations to her small "affairs" were eagerly sought after.

Fay had gone to the guest room on an upper story, but the music reached her even there, and the laughter and hum of voices and whirling of arriving footers made her treacherous nerves quiver.

After a hopeless effort she threw her book aside. If she could only escape from the house to a secluded nook where she could be undiscovered, she felt that the cool air would refresh her.

Like a moving shadow she glided past the parlor and to the edge of the wood.

THE GIRL SAW TO HER AMAZEMENT THAT THE INTRUDER WAS A MAN ON CRUTCHES.

All at once she became aware of the crunch of gravel upon the path. They were dragging halting steps, with an odd sort of thump in between; surely not made by the light feet of any of the dancers.

In a moment a lesser shadow detached itself from the deeper ones and the girl saw to her amazement that the intruder was a man on crutches. Could it be the miscreant who had invaded the house and garage two nights before?

She had turned to flee when a low, vaguely familiar voice fell upon her ears.

"Miss Tudor! Miss Tudor, are you here?"

"Captain Warren. Oh, I am so glad you found me."

A hand was lifted from the rung of the crutch and clasped hers warmly. "I did not know your people were giving a dance tonight or I should have intruded. I heard that you had returned and I wanted so much to see you. I've been staying with friends in the neighborhood, but I am leaving tomorrow."

"It was good of you to come."

There was a shock—not of pity

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—What is the full name of the president of the United States, the full name of the Governor of Ohio? What is the full name of the highest city official? It is my school work and would like to have it as soon as possible.

President, Warren Gamaliel Harding, Governor Harry Lyman Davis, and Mayor William Nast Gableman.

Dear Dolly—What do you think of a man who will cast his little children out to work for other people and don't give them any attention whatever? Outsiders have to clothe and school them. Don't you think such a man ought to be turned over a barrel and a paddle used on him?

LOVER OF CHILDREN.
If you use the paddle on him give him an extra lick for me. However, I think it would be better to report him to the probate judge and let the law take its course.

Dear Miss Wise—I am 21 years of age and have been going with a girl of 14 for the past ten months. My affections for her are very great. She seems to be almost perfect except for her jealousy. She is jealous of all the girls and is continually mentioning it to me, and it is becoming monotonous. Will she get over this as she grows older? Is jealousy a sign of love? What can I do to help her get over this?

KENTUCKY READER.
The best thing you can do is to let this child strictly alone. You ought to be ashamed of yourself, to say the least. How do you expect the child to get her lessons when you are always hanging around talking about love. A girl of fourteen does not know the meaning of the word.

Dear Dolly—How long does a person have to live in Scioto county before they can sue for a divorce? If a person had lived here a year and gone to Kentucky and live six weeks and then come back here to live are they considered residents of this city?

BETTY.
Residence required for a divorce in the state of Ohio or Kentucky is one year. If you were only a temporary resident of Kentucky, you could still claim Ohio as your home state.

Greenup, Ky.—Dear Dolly—Are eggs good for the hair, and is there anything that will make the hair soft and silky? If so print at once.

It is.
An egg shampoo is good for the hair, but there is nothing that will make coarse hair soft and silky.

Dear Dolly—Will you please print a recipe for doughnuts. I have tried to make them but they were not fit to eat.

MRS. L. E.
One third cup of butter, two cups of sugar, two cups of sweet milk, three eggs, pinch of salt, nutmeg, one heaping teaspoon of baking powder for every pint of flour, add enough flour to make a soft dough. In frying use enough grease so that the doughnuts will not touch the bottom of the skillet or kettle. Would advise you to use just half of this recipe as doughnuts are not good when they get stale.

Dear Dolly—Do you think it is wrong for me to go out auto riding with my mother and my husband's cousin and her gentleman friend? My

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Flood and Miss Mildred Neff will go to Cincinnati the last of the week to see "The Follies."

Mrs. Harold Flood delightedly entertained Miss Winnie Stewart's Sunday school class of Trinity church last evening at her pretty home on Sixth street. After the business session the evening was spent socially and later a delicious salad course was passed about. Those present included Miss Winnie Stewart, the teacher, Mrs. Auslem Skelton, Mrs. Otis Ford, Mrs. Harold Flood, Misses Mildred Williamson, Anna McGee, Gertrude Kerns, Mildred Williams, Marie McCall, Helen Frowine and Lucile Tracy of the class numbers. Miss Mildred Neff was a guest for the evening.

Miss Leona George, Home Telephone operator, is confined to her home on Jackson street with the grip.

L. A. to O. R. C. will meet in regular session tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in Brady's Hall. All members are urged to be present.

Mrs. Norma Bauer and daughter of Picketon are the guests of Portsmouth relatives.

The bake sale to be held by Section One of Manly Ladies Aid Society Saturday morning at the R. F. Stewart's grocery store, will be conducted by Mrs. Florid Chabot and Mrs. A. E. Cyfers.

The Men's Bible Class of Maury church, together with Liberty Class, are planning a big get-together meeting for Thursday evening of this week. The families of both classes are cordially invited to attend this meeting. Each woman is to bring sandwiches and the men will furnish and serve the balance of the lunch. A good social time is promised all who attend.

Mrs. Gussie White Richards of Portsmouth arrived at home to visit her mother, Mrs. T. J. White of Sheriffs. Rev. M. R. White of Jackson, who has been assisting in the evangelistic services at the T. J. church, will accompany his cousin, Mrs. Richards of Sheriffs for a visit. —Fronton Register.

The three planting and flower committees of the Woman's City Club will meet at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in room 104, of the high school, to outline their activities in the spring.

Members of Mrs. Jack Franklin's Sunday school class of the Second Presbyterian church will participate in a winter picnic in the church social hall Thursday evening. The election of officers will also be held at this meeting and all members are urged to be present.

W. L. Cressy, 1137 Third street, who has been ill at his home for several weeks with rheumatism, is now at the Marlborough, Ind., sanitarium.

Mrs. Augustus Paul Kerr, Gallopis, Ohio will arrive tomorrow for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. George M. Taylor, 1513 Fourth street.

Mrs. Howard Sellards, 801 Offshore street will entertain members of Group Four of Trinity Ladies Aid Society Thursday. The assistant hostesses will be Mrs. Grace Knoll and Mrs. J. E. Dudley.

Mrs. Frank Alger, has returned to her home in Cincinnati after a week-end visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Hiltchcock. Mrs. Hiltchcock and two children spent last week with Mrs. Alger in Cincinnati. Mrs. Alger accompanied Mrs. Hiltchcock home.

Keep that wedding day complexion

The blushing bride of today should be the blooming matron of tomorrow, retaining the charm of girlhood's freshness to enhance radiant maturity.

For bridal beauty should not fade, nor the passing of each anniversary be recorded on your face.

Keep the school-girl complexion which graced your wedding day, and you will keep your youth. With a fresh, smooth skin no woman ever seems old.

The problem of keeping such a complexion was solved centuries ago. The method is simple—the means within the reach of all.

Cosmetic cleansing the secret
To keep your complexion fresh and smooth you must keep it scrupulously clean. You can't allow dirt, oil and perspiration to collect and clog the pores if you value clearness and fine texture.

You can't depend on cold cream to do this cleansing—repeated applications help fill up the pores. The best way is to wash your face with the mild, soothing lather blended from palm and olive oils, the cleansers used by Cleopatra.

Science has combined those two Oriental oils in the bland, balmy facial soap which bears their name. You need never be afraid of the effects of soap and water if the soap you use is Palmolive.

How it acts
The rich, profuse lather, massaged into the skin, penetrates the pores and removes every trace of the clogging accumulations which when neglected make the skin texture coarse and cause blackheads and blotches.

It softens the skin and keeps it flexible and smooth. It freshens and stimulates, encouraging firmness and attractive natural color.

Not too expensive
Although Palmolive is the finest, mildest facial soap that can be produced, the price is not too high to permit general use on the washstand for bathing.

This moderate price is due to popularity, to the enormous demand which keeps the Palmolive factories working day and night and necessitates the importation of the costly oils in vast quantities.

Thus soap which would cost at least 25 cents a cake if made in small quantities is offered for only 10 cents, a price all can afford. The old-time luxury of the few may now be enjoyed by the world over.

It said, "When the dragon changes his form you and Nancy must watch your chance and grab the Green Shoes."

He put it into his pocket again and stepped out of the cave just in time to see a great puff of black smoke. And as it disappeared there slowly took form a white goat with a black head and gold knobs on the ends of his horns.

But while the goat was sort of settling himself, you might say, the Green Shoes lay for an instant on the ground.

Quick as a wink the Twins grabbed them and slipped them on.

At last they had all their magic back with which they had started. The goat stamped around with rage, shaking his head dreadfully.

"What's wrong?" asked Nancy. "Does something hurt you?"

"Yes," answered the goat, "my common-sense has a dent in it. I used to think I knew what stole my bread was buttered on, but I've decided that I don't know anything any more. I shouldn't have come back."

"Did you say bread or head?" asked Nancy.

"This is no place for a joke," answered the goat solemnly. But talking of bread made him think of the cake. There was a secret about it. (To Be Continued)

NO TRACE IS FOUND OF FIREBUG

No further trace has been found of the man suspected of setting fire to the G. H. Dislerick barn near Powellsville early Sunday morning when the fire caused damage estimated at $10,000.

The New Boston blood hound that was put on the suspect's trail Sunday morning was in charge of Owen Fitch and Frank White, of New Boston. They have used the dog a number of times but claim he never worked better than Sunday when it took both of them to hold him when he hit the man's trail up the hollow near the log cabin where he lived. The dog went into the cabin and jumped into the suspect's bed.

According to Fitch and White they were sent home with the dog instead of Constable Columbus Porter putting them on the trail after the suspect was chased from his hideout.

To Close Deal For Game Preserve

L. J. Taber, director of agriculture and A. C. Baxter, chief of the Bureau of Fish and Game of Ohio, will be here Friday and Saturday to purchase the ground for the game preserve on the West Side.

The land is being purchased of Simon Labod, Edward Cunningham, F. W. Moulton and the Peebles estate. The land comprises about 15,000 acres and is located between Carey's Run and Turkey Creek and extending to Bear Creek.

Minstrel Opens Wednesday

Wednesday and Thursday nights in the high school auditorium the Black and White Follies will be given by about forty P. H. S. boys who have been rehearsing for this minstrel show for the last few weeks. The show is directed by a man from the John D. Rodgers Producing Company.

One carload of scenery is to be used in the first part, and second part. Seven different drop curtains are used as part of the stage setting. Costumes costing $1500 are also to be used and the show is guaranteed to be one of the best home talent plays ever presented here.

The show is fun and then more fun with laugh following on top of laugh. Jokes and comedy patter with comical songs make the first part a big hit. The olio is to be somewhat different while the last part will also be out of the ordinary in minstrel shows.

Students from all four classes are taking part in the show. Tickets have been on sale for a week. The reserved seat sale opened Monday at Brandon's book store. Many good seats are still left. The reserved seat sale for Thursday is also open, starting today. The show starts at 8:15 both evenings.

Held On Embezzlement Charge

The preliminary hearing of Charles H. Gray, arrested by the police late Monday night for alleged embezzlement of funds which came into his hands as the local representative of the International Correspondence Schools, in Municipal court Tuesday resulted in Judge McCall holding the accused for grand jury action under $500 bond.

The complaint on which Gray was taken into custody was sworn out by H. R. Denyes, of Cincinnati, district superintendent of the schools, who claimed that the agent was more than $100 short in his accounts. He stated that on discovering the shortage more than a month ago that he had discharged Gray but did not press a charge at that time by reason of his promise to make the amount good. Mr. Denyes declared that after Gray had been released as local agent he continued to solicit scholars and collected money which he misappropriated to his own use.

Gray admitted that he was short $120 in his accounts and begged for a chance to make the amount good when his soldiers' bonus check comes from the state. He has represented the schools here for about two years.

To Enlist Aid Of Kentucky Congressman

Alan N. Jordan left Tuesday afternoon for Washington, where he will enlist the aid of Kentucky congressman to secure a survey for the Ohio Ship Canal.

Congressmen Fess and Speaks of Ohio are in favor of the survey being made and will vote for the appropriation covering its cost, and Mr. Jordan's mission to the Capital City is to get the consent of the Kentucky congressman to vote for the appropriation. He was joined at Clevelandsburg this afternoon by Ben Williamson, a leading citizen of Clevelandsburg.

The Tonnage Comparison

It is interesting to note in connection with the heretofore proposed plan of discriminating tariffs on imports, carried to our shores in American bottoms that the total value of all dutiable imports for 1920, in all vessels, was $1,985,865,000, while the cargoes admitted free of duty, on which no discrimination was possible, were valued at $2,115,958,000. The actual tonnage comparison is even more significant from the viewpoint of cargo carrying, because the dutiable cargoes measured in round numbers ten million tons and the non-dutiable cargoes were 25,000,000 tons. The cargo employment, by two and a half times, was in non-dutiable shipments.

Trade Must Be Reciprocal

Continued trade must be reciprocal. We can not long maintain sales where we do not buy. In the promotion of these exchanges we should have as much concern for the promotion of sales as for the facilitation of our purchases. There is not a record in all history of long maintained eminence in export trade, except as the importing nations develop their own carrying capacity.

Desire To Restore Merchant Marine

The conflict between two schools of political thought heretofore has defeated all efforts to employ the government aid, which other nations found advantageous while we held aloof, and the terms "subsidy" and "subvention" were made more or less hateful to the American public. But the nation-wide desire to restore our merchant marine has outlived all defeat and every costly failure.

Eight years ago the aspiration found expression in a movement to have the government sponsor an enterprise in which individual genius seemingly had failed. It would be difficult correctly to appraise the policy, because the world was not yet at its normal activities. Before we were involved our ship yards were suddenly turned to feverish and costly activities by the call of the allied powers for shipping, without which they could not hope to survive. American energies were applied to construction for others, as we had never dreamed of doing for ourselves. When we were later engaged we trebled and quadrupled the output on our own account.

Allied resources were called upon to build to meet the destruction by submarine warfare, and ships were so essential that material for them was given priority over arms and munitions. There was the call for ships and ships, and yet more ships, and we enlarged old yards and established new ones without counting the cost. We bulged madly, extravagantly, impractically and yet miraculously, but we met a pressing need and performed a great service.

Will Enjoy Radio Concert

The meeting of the Kiwanis Club scheduled for Wednesday noon will be held at six o'clock at the Mary Louise instead, and after the regular meeting is finished, the members will adjourn to the radio room of the General Service Company and enjoy a concert via wireless telephone. This will be a real treat for the Kiwanians.

Acquired Vast Tonnage

A people indifferent to the vital necessity of a merchant marine to the national defense, ungrudgingly expended five times the cost of normal construction and appropriated billions where millions had been denied before. We acquired vast tonnage. Some of it, much of it, suited to the peace service of expanded commerce. Some of it, much of it, may be charged to the errors and extravagances of war time anxiety and haste. The war program and that completion of contracts which followed because such a course seemed best to those then charged with responsibility, gave us something more than 12,000,000 gross tonnage, not counting the tonnage of the wood construction at a total outlay of approximately three and one-half billions of dollars.

Possess Vast Tonnage

We thus became possessed of the vehicles of a great merchant marine. Not all of it was practical for use in the trans-oceanic trades; little of it was built for the speed which gives the coveted class to outstanding service. But here was vast tonnage for cargo service and the government, in the exceptional call of commerce which immediately followed the war, sought the establishment of shipping lines in every direction calculated to enhance our foreign trade and further cement our friendly relations.

A Government Experiment

The movement lacked in most cases that inherent essential to success which is found in individual initiative. It was rather a government experiment, where lines were established in high hope and little assurance, because the public treasury was to bear the burden. There was the mere suggestion of private enterprise, inasmuch as allocations and charters were made under which private management was to share in profits and private interests were paid to make the experiment, though the government was to bear all the losses.

I follow the detailed trail. The misadventure was so unfortunate that when the present administration came into responsibility the losses were approximately $16,000,000 a month and to the cost of the country was added the humiliation of ships libeled in foreign ports.

In spite of all the later losses in operation, however, it is quite beyond question that our abundance of American tonnage has mainly responsible for our ability to share in the good fortunes of world trade during the two years immediately following the war. In all probability the losses we have sustained in our shipping activities were fully compensated to the American people in the saving of ocean freights in that period.

Today we are possessed of vast tonnage, large and very costly equipment, and the conviction is falling in that it is fair to say that a mistaken policy was made more difficult by the unparalleled slump in shipping which came late in 1920 and prevailed throughout the year so recently closed. It was the inevitable reflex of the readjustments which follow a great war, and there were heavy losses in operations which had to be made by long established and heretofore successful shipping lines and ships built at top war costs took the slump in prices below the normal levels of peace.

But we have our ships, the second largest tonnage in the world, and we have the aspiration, let me say, the determination to establish a merchant marine commensurate with our commercial importance. Our problem is to turn the ships and our experience and aspirations into the effective development of an ocean-going shipping service without which there can be no assurance of maintained commercial eminence, without which any future conflict at arms will send us building again, wildly and extravagantly, when the proper concern for this necessary agency of commerce in peace will be our guarantee of defense in case that peace is disturbed.

Out of the story of the making of great merchant marines and out of our own experience we ought to find the practical solution. Happily, we are less provincial than we once were, happily, we have come to know how inseparably are our varied interests. Nobody pretends any longer that shipping is a matter of concern only to the parts involved. Commerce on the seas is quite as vital to the greater interior as it is to our coast territory, east, south or west. Shipping is no more a sectional interest than is agriculture or manufacturing. No one of them can be prospered alone.

We have had a new manifestation of this broadened vision in the enthusiasm of the great middlewest for the proposed Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway, by which it is intended to connect the Great Lakes ports with the marts of the world. There is "far-seeing vision" in the proposal and this great and commendable enterprise deserves our favorable consideration is inseparable from a great merchant marine.

Aid By Private Enterprise

What, then, is our problem? I bring to you the suggestions which have resulted from a comprehensive study which are recommended to me by every member of the United States shipping board. It is a program of direct and indirect aid to shipping to be conducted by private enterprise. It is proposed to apply generally the benefits which it was designed to derive from discriminating duties to all ships engaged in foreign commerce with such limitation on remuneration as will challenge every charge of promoting special interests at public cost.

Plan Merchant Marine Fund

In lieu of discriminating duties on imports brought to us in American bottoms, it is proposed to take ten per cent of all duties collected on imports brought to us in American or foreign bottoms and create therefrom a merchant marine fund. To this fund shall be added the tonnage charges, taxes and fees imposed on vessels entering the ports of continental United States, also such sums as are payable to American vessels by the post office department for the transportation by water of foreign mails, parcel posts excepted.

Direct Aid For Ships

Out of this fund shall be paid the direct aid in the development and maintenance of an American merchant marine. The compensation shall be based on one-half of one cent for each gross ton of any vessel, regardless of speed, for each 100 miles traveled. When the speed is 12 knots or over but less than 14, two-tenths of a cent on each gross ton shall be added; for 14 knots three-tenths of a cent; for 15 knots four-tenths of a cent; for 16 knots five-tenths; for 17 knots six-tenths; for 18 knots seven-tenths; for 19 knots eight-tenths; for 20 knots nine-tenths shall be added to the basic rate. For 21 knots the maximum is reached at 2.0 cents for each gross ton per 100 miles traveled.

Must Carry U. S. Mails Free

All vessels thus remunerated shall carry the United States mails, except parcel posts, free of cost, and that all such remuneration must only whenever the owner of any vessel or vessels shall have derived a net operating income in excess of ten per cent per annum upon his actual investment, and thereafter the owner shall pay fifty per cent of such excess earnings to the merchant marine fund, until the full amount of subsidy previously received is returned to its source.

Cost Estimated $15,000,000 First Year

The cost of such a program probably will reach fifteen millions the first year estimated on the largest possibilities of the present fleet. With larger reimbursements the reimbursement to high speed vessels, and the enlargement of the merchant marine to a capacity comparable with our commerce, the total outlay may reach the limits of thirty millions, but it is confidently believed that the scale may in the time thereafter be turned until the larger reimbursements are restored to the treasury.

The proposed plan will supercede all postal subsidies, postal compensations and extra compensations, excepting parcel post freights, all of which combined are fast growing to approximately five millions annually.

Should Aid Fleet

It will ultimately take the government out of a business which has been and is now excessively costly and wasteful and involving a loss in excess of the highest subsidy proposed. It will bring to shipping again that individual initiative which is the very soul of successful enterprise. It should enable the government to liquidate its vast fleet to the highest possible advantage. The direct aid proposed, even though it ultimately runs to $30,000,000 annually, is insufficient alone to offset the advantages of competing fleets.

Favors Discard of Transport Service

I think we should discontinue, so far as practical, the transport services in the army and navy and make our merchant and passenger ships the agents of service in peace as well as war. We should make insurance available at no greater cost than afforded the ships under competing flags and we can and will make of the spirit of Section 28 of the Jones act of 1920, providing for preferential rail and steamship rates on through shipments on American vessels, American railways must be brought into co-operation with American steamship lines. It is not in accord with either security or sound business practice to have our railways furthering interest of foreign shipping lines, when the concord of American activities makes for common American good fortune.

Favors Railways Owning Ships

Contemplating the competition to be met, there ought to be an amendment to the interstate commerce act, which will permit railway systems to own and operate steamship lines engaged in other than coastwise trade. There is measureless advantage in the longer shipments where rail and water transportation are coordinated, not only in the service but in the solidification of cargoes which ever attends an expanding commerce.

It is also worth our consideration that in view of suspended naval construction, the continued building of merchant ships is the one guarantee of a maintained ship building industry without which no nation may hope to hold a high place in the world of commerce or be assured of adequate defense.

Our existing ships should be sold at prices prevailing in the world market. I am not unmindful of the hesitancy to sacrifice the values of current price levels.

Return To Private Enterprise

Having failed at such enormous cost, I bring you the proposal which contemplates the return to individual initiative, and private enterprise, wherein we are safeguarded against the promotion of private greed, and do not discourage the hope of profitable investment which underlies all successful endeavor.

The merchant marine is universally recognized as the second line of national defense. It is indispensable in the time of great national emergency. It is commendable to up-build and maintain, because it is the highest agency of peace and unity, and bears no threat and incites no suspicion. And yet it is a supreme assurance, without which we should be unmindful of our safety and unheeding of our need to continued growth and maintained influence.

Merchant Marine of Peace

I am thinking of the merchant marine of peace. Commerce is inseparable from progress and attainment. Commerce and its handmaidens have wrought the greatest intimacies among nations which calls for understandings and guarantees of peace. However we work it out, whatever our adjustments are to promote international trade, it is incredible that the hundred millions here, outstanding in genius and unrivaled and incalculable in their resources, must be conspicuous in the world exchanges. We can not hope to compete unless we carry, and our concord and our influence are sure to be measured by that unflinching

Hike Is Dismissed In Court

Albert Hike, young man living at 1313 Thirteenth street, charged with reckless driving, was dismissed in Municipal court Monday by Judge McCall when John G. Reilly, the prosecuting witness, failed to identify the defendant as the driver of the car.

Hike claimed that he was at the home of a young woman on Fourth street Saturday afternoon at the time the offense was committed and his statement was supported by other witnesses. Hike stated that it was possible some of his friends had taken his machine without his permission.

Return to Louisville

Wanzer Riekey, former deputy sheriff, now Federal Prohibition enforcement officer, who spent the week-end with home folks, returned Monday afternoon to Louisville where he is stationed. Wanzer says he is getting along swimmingly with his new work and is thoroughly imbued with the southern hospitality which he has encountered in the Falls City.

Rifle Club News

An interesting meeting of the Junior Rifle Club was held Monday night at the First Evangelical Sunday school. Reports were made on recent shoots, which showed that two more members had won their pro-marksman medals, which are offered to any member who can make 180 out of a possible 230.

Roy Ziesler won his medal with a score of 200. Edward Higgins won his medal with the highest score made so far in the pro-marksman contest. His marks totaled 217.

Donald Koerner won his marksman medal with a score of 225, which is second highest to be made by any member of the club.

In a recent match Earl J. Minch made the highest score yet when he made 228 out of a possible 250. A gold sharpshooters' medal is offered to any member who can make 240 out of a possible 250. Minch has been practicing for this trial and recently made 124 out of a possible 125.

Every member of the club is proving himself a good shot, and should the good work continue, the club will enter as a unit in the national Boy Scout match held in August. This match is conducted by mail, each unit sending in its targets to the national headquarters at New Haven, Conn.

Each target must be witnessed by two or more adults. The club holds weekly meetings at the First Evangelical church.

FROM GIRLHOOD TO WOMANHOOD

Woman Relied Upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Emporia, Kansas. — "I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines years ago when I was a girl. For several years I had severe pains in my stomach, making me very weak and interfering with my regular duties. I tried several remedies without obtaining relief. I was induced to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound by friends and it restored me to normal health. I often have occasion and do recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to my own. You may use these facts as a testimonial." —Eva Aldrich, 215 Union St., Emporia, Kansas.

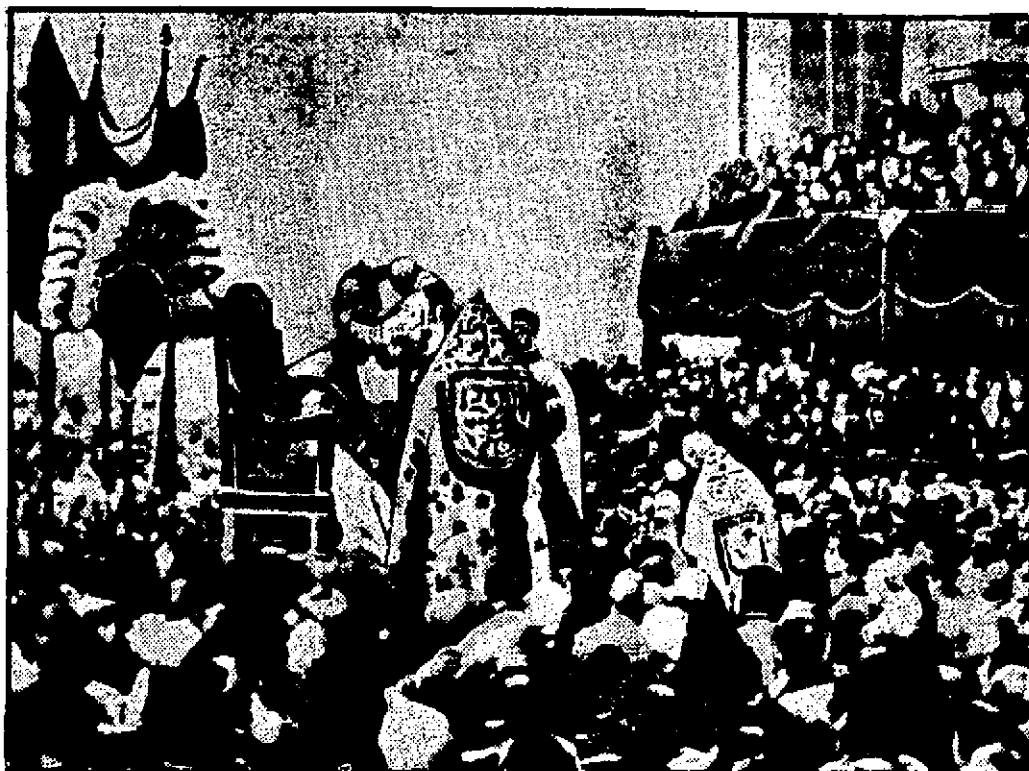

There are many women who first used our Vegetable Compound during their girlhood days. They found it a valuable help during trying periods. In later years they use it whenever they feel those annoying symptoms which women often have.

It is prepared carefully from medicinal plants, whose properties are especially adapted to correct the troubles women have.

STOMACH TROUBLES CAUSE LACK OF PEP AND DANGEROUS GAS

Fisher & Streich Have Wonder Capsules Which Promptly Relieve And Prevent Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Constipation

If you are too fat or too thin—if you lack that desirable, American quality known as "pep"—if you have annoying, dangerous gas—the chances are there is something wrong with your digestion. Dyspepsia, indigestion and kindred ailments of the stomach and digestive tract are prevalent among American people because we eat fast and at irregular times, from. Vigorous people are able to stand the strain for a time, but sooner or later the digestive organs rebel. They cannot stand overeating and the abuse of irregular meals and all sorts of cooking indefinitely.

Undigested Food Poisons

The secretive functions of the stomach become impaired. The digestive fluids become weak and sparse, when they should be strong and abundant to accomplish their work. This results in the food not only becoming unfit for assimilation but often decomposing in the stomach and poisoning the whole system. Gas is formed, producing a full, heavy feeling, with head-ache, coated tongue, nausea, flatulence, heartburn and many other forms of stomach disturbances, which quickly become chronic.

One Capsule Digests 5,000 Grains

Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules save your stomach. They contain a number of reliable and standard medicines acknowledged by authorities to be correctives in certain gastric and intestinal disturbances. One capsule will aid in digesting 5,000 grains of food. Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules relieve disorders of the stomach and digestive tract, quickly correcting the evil in mild and acute cases and gradually relieving chronic and obstinate cases. Some of the ingredients act chemically on the food, aiding digestion and obviating the many disturbances caused by gas; others stimulate the secretory glands and tone up the stomach; still others act as a mild laxative.

Capsules Superior to Pills

Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules provide the quickest and easiest form for relieving indigestion and dyspepsia. Authorities state that the capsule form is a valuable protective carrier for medicines and is far superior to pills or tablets which often become so hard that they cannot be readily assimilated in stomach and frequently do not dissolve at all, passing solidly through the stomach and bowels. The pure gelatin which forms Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules dissolves within one

Satisfaction Guaranteed

A single capsule usually gives beneficial results. It goes directly to the spot. If taken directly after eating, one capsule will often prevent an attack of indigestion. If taken regularly after each meal for a period of six to ten days such relief is given that even the most confirmed dyspepsia have been thoroughly convinced of their value.

Presiding Elder's Testimony

Rev. Dr. Thomas G. Thompson, former presiding elder of the Methodist Episcopal church, writing from Johnstown, N. Y., August 12, 1921, says: "I have used Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules as needed for more than twelve years and have always found them beneficial and helpful. They have proven themselves able to give immediate relief when my digestive apparatus for some reason has been thrown out of gear and does not function properly. As I find them easy to take, promptly helpful and so far as I can judge in no sense a habit-forming tonic, I try to keep a small supply ready for use, as they may be needed. I highly recommend them."

If you suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or constipation get Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules today and begin at once to get the results of the renewed vigor that comes with perfect digestion. On sale by the Fisher & Streich Pharmacy, Portsmouth, O., 60 cents by mail, postpaid for large package from Jaques' Capsule Co., Plattsburg, N. Y.—Advertisement.

Interest In Sciotoville Revival

The evangelistic services being conducted by Rev. Charles Reinhard, at the Sciotoville Christian church, are progressing satisfactorily and will continue throughout the week. The interest is at high tide and the attendance is all that could be desired.

Rev. Reinhard is delivering some powerful sermons and several additions to the church are reported. This evening the evangelist will speak from the subject, "The Great Harvest Time." Subjects for the balance of the week are: "The One God of the Church," "The Sinners' Guest," "The Man Who Forgave," "The Three Crosses." Under the leadership of Robert Holbrook, the singing is one of the features of the meetings. Director Holbrook has built up a chorus of forty voices and this organization is helping out wonderfully well. The general public is invited to the meetings, which begin promptly at 7 o'clock. The song service preceding the preaching puts everybody in the proper mood.

Commissioners Approve Plan For
"Hard Surface" West Side Road

County Commissioners in session at the Court House Tuesday, by a vote of two to one, adopted a resolution approving plans, estimates and determining to proceed with the construction of a mile of hard surface road on the Portsmouth-Lucasville western highway. Members W. O. Shively and Jacob Kuhner voting in favor of this improvement which was opposed by Member J. H. Appel.

This action was brought about by the recent action of the board in abandoning the original plans which provided for the construction of a water bound gravel road, similar to the stretch built by Contractor Simpson on the same highway, and extending from the intersection of the Duck Run road north to the Lucasville bridge, a distance of nearly three miles.

A delegation of citizens living along the highway appeared before the board and made vigorous protest against substituting plans for the building of a mile of permanent road for original plans which provided for the construction of three miles of water bound gravel, but the majority of the board took the stand that the latter type of road as exemplified by the Simpson contract had proved entirely unsatisfactory and that one mile of hard surface road is more desirable than three miles of gravel construction. The board has now under consideration plans to hard surface the stretch of gravel road between the Galena mine and the Duck Run road and it is hoped to do the work this coming summer.

Resolutions were also adopted by the board providing for the improvement of the Galena mine and the Portsmouth-Oriskany Hill pike. All three propositions are under the state-aid plan and bids will be received upon three types of construction, bituminous macadam, brick and concrete. The three improvements call for the construction of approximately a mile on each.

President Appel opposed the proceedings in respect to the Portsmouth-Lucasville road.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2. and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or never quite, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Communion Of Saints

The privilege of being a Catholic makes one belong to the Communion of Saints. This means that all Catholics on earth are united with one another; and they, in turn, are united with the souls in purgatory and with the blessed in heaven. The Catholic church is composed of the church militant on earth, the church suffering in purgatory and the church triumphant in heaven. Rom. 12:2. The benefit of the Communion of Saints is that each member shares in the prayers, good works and merits of all the others. The church is the oldest, largest and most perfect union.

Edison "Flash" From Broadway

IF YOU LIKE FOX-TROTS HEAR "ALL THE TIME"

We are glad to announce that "All the Time" a fox-trot of exceptional merit, has just been received. The Club de Vingt Orchestra have recorded it with such great gusto it will be a pleasure to dance to. This is one of the newest fox-trots. Reverse—"Up in the Clouds." promises to be such a hit that the Lab-ratories decided to record it both as a vocal duet (see No. 50889 below) and as a dance number. This is given here, Green Bros. Novelty Band haven't missed any opportunity to put pop into this number, and we think you will agree they have turned out an exceptionally good fox-trot. Re-Creation No. 50869.

"UP IN THE CLOUDS" THE NEW SONG HIT

Here is the vocal arrangement of this big hit. Elizabeth Spencer and Lewis James have made of it a sentimental duet, that is very appealing. Reverse—"The Rosary You Gave To Me." The song writer, "Harry Von Tilzer," seems to have become a veritable factory lately, turning out songs one right after the other. "The Rosary You Gave To Me" is one of the best he has recently written. Walter Scanlan puts a great amount of feeling into its rendition. Re-Creation No. 50889.

THE ROSARY

There is a mysterious quality in this selection. As Signor "Friscon" plays "The Rosary" on his Xylophone, it seems to take on the effect of some sort of uncanny pipe organ. If you are among those who are tired of hearing this song played or sung here, there and everywhere, you will find that this rendition is refreshingly novel. In playing this arrangement for the Xylophone, the artist uses four hammers, a very different feat. Reverse—"Harcenrolle" from the "Tales of Hoffman." Recreation No. 50890.

Watch the little folks speed home for Kellogg's Corn Flakes

"Madder, I always win the race when I carry home Kellogg's Corn Flakes. I can't hardly wait till I have some quick madder!"

It's great to see child-enthusiasm for Kellogg's; great to see every one in the family enjoy their crisp crunchiness and wonderful flavor! To sit down before a heaping bowlful of these joyous oven-browned "sweet-hearts-of-the-corn" and some milk or cream—and fresh fruit, if it's handy—is just about the very last word in appetizing appeal! And, your good taste will prove that!

Kellogg's Corn Flakes ought to be superior—they are the original Corn Flakes! Kellogg's are never tough or leathery; never hard to eat; never a disappointment!

Be certain to get Kellogg's—the delicious kind of Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package—because none are genuine without the signature of W. K. Kellogg, the originator of Toasted Corn Flakes.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. church will meet Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ralph Wrightsell.

The signing completed, the bride march from "Home and Juliet" and Mendelssohn's wedding march were played. The bride and bridegroom stepped down the aisle to the west door, preceded by the choir and clergy and followed by the bridesmaids. The clergy moved off to the Jerusalem chamber as cheers, re-awakened by the appearance of the united couple in the doorway, reverberated through the edifice.

Bride and Groom Begin Triumphant Return

The king and queen and other members of the royal family moved toward the door and the new viscountess and her husband began their triumphant return through the tumultuous street throng, using this time the carriage in which Queen Mary went to the altar. The route was varied to give other crowds an opportunity to see the couple.

consisting of the Duke of York and Princes Henry and George.

Received by the Dean of Westminster.

The dean of Westminster received them and to the strains of Sir Herbert Parry's bridal march, faintly heard from the interior of the altar, they were conducted by gentlemen ushers down the aisle and around the unknown warrior's grave, between rows of guests standing, above them, on either side, to their places in the sacristy.

Vicomte Lascelles, accompanied by his groomsmen, Major Sir Victor Audley MacKenzie, Lt. S. G. O., arrived at the poet's corner door of the altar and was conducted to the spot reserved for him at the south side of the steps leading to the sacristy by one of their majesty's gentlemen ushers. He, with the rest of the assemblage, stood until the royal party reached the places assigned them.

The officiating clergyman—the archbishop of Canterbury and York, the bishops of London and Oxford and Canon Maurice Lascelles, the bridegroom's uncle—wearing capes, assembled in the Jerusalem chamber of the abbey and moved to their places in the sacristy, the Voluntary being played as they proceeded up the nave.

Truly a Princess in Fairy-Like Gown

Meanwhile, a storm of cheering outside proclaimed the arrival of the bride and the king. Mary stepped from her coach—truly a princess in her fairy-like gown, combining the sheen of silver, the fling down of tulle, the sparkle of beads, the dull sheen of pearls, and the exquisite colorings of satin and old lace, against which contrasted the wonderful four and a half yard train, with its silk embroidery and crystal work.

The pearl hemmed veil, thrown back from her face over a triple diadem of twisted silver and orange blossoms, revealed the demure features of the princess on her drive from the palace. The bride gown had been clothed in a rich ermine wrap.

The dean received the party. "Lead Us, Heavenly Father," was played as the bridal procession moved up the nave headed by household officials, the state chamberlain, the dean, canon and choir, the latter comprising 44 boys and 22 men. "Then came the bride on the king's arm, followed by the bridesmaids, the ladies in waiting and king's suite.

Married By Archbishop of Canterbury

It was about 11:30 o'clock when the solemn service, performed by the archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by the archbishop of York and the dean of the Abbey, began.

The sixty-seventh Psalm was chanted and anthem, "Relieved, Let Us Love One Another" was sung during the service. During the ceremony the bride carried an exquisitely bound pink service book, a gift from the queen.

Sign Registers With Gold Quill Pen

The bride and bridegroom then passed to Edward the Confessor Chapel, where two registers were signed—one known as the royal register, in which the entry of today's ceremony occupied six pages, and the other the Abbey register, which is signed alike by royalty and subjects. Mary used a gold quill pen, one of her wedding gifts.

The signing completed, the bride march from "Home and Juliet" and Mendelssohn's wedding march were played. The bride and bridegroom stepped down the aisle to the west door, preceded by the choir and clergy and followed by the bridesmaids. The clergy moved off to the Jerusalem chamber as cheers, re-awakened by the appearance of the united couple in the doorway, reverberated through the edifice.

JOSEPH DRAKE

"When I say that I weigh twenty-five pounds more than I did a short time ago it speaks volumes for the merit of Taulac," said Joe. B. Drake, 320 Belmont Ave., Springfield, Mass.

"The first thing Taulac did for me was to give me an appetite and tone up my stomach. It wasn't long before I was eating things I hadn't dared touch for years and anyone to see the hearty way I eat now would find it hard to believe that a few weeks ago I was desperate and living on the lightest kind of diet."

"Another good thing Taulac did for me was to drive the rheumatism almost entirely out of my system. In fact, I can truthfully say it has made me feel like a new man in every way. It certainly is a grand medicine."

Taulac is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher and Streich Pharmacy and by leading druggists everywhere.—advertisement.

coach and other royal personages quickly followed and the wedding breakfast was served there to a company of about one hundred and seventy persons, including the royal family and relatives and closest friends. A feature of this was the cutting of a gigantic 500-pound wedding cake, made in five tiers, standing nearly seven feet in height. The ingredients of which were sent especially from the various parts of the British empire.

As she passed the centoph, in Whitehall, on the return from Westminster Abbey, after the ceremony, Princess Mary reached from the carriage window and handed out a bouquet which a sergeant major grasped and placed on the centoph as a tribute from her to Great Britain's dead in the war. Soon after their return to Buckingham palace, Princess Mary and her husband appeared on the balcony over the central arch of the palace, to the delight of the crowd gathered there which cheered the pair for several minutes and waved hats and handkerchiefs.

As they were smiling and bowing repeatedly in acknowledgment of the demonstration the couple were joined by King George, Queen Mary and Queen Mother Alexandra, upon which the cheering broke out afresh.

The appearance of a black cat under the gates of Buckingham palace early this morning was hailed as an omen of good luck for the Princess Mary by the people assembled there. The crowd, consisting mainly of women and children, cheered the animal lustily.

Mike Kearney Takes Count

PORTSMOUTH, Feb. 28.—In a battle which will go down in history as the hardest and most exciting ever witnessed in this section, Joe Larue, the dark-skinned welterweight from Charleston, Pa., demonstrated for the second time his superiority over Mike Kearney, champion of the West Virginia rollers, here last night, when he dropped the Huntington battler for the count.

In the third session of their scheduled ten-round mix-up, there were six knockdowns in the first two stanzas, Mike flooring the Pennsylvania three times in the first, while Larue had Kearney wallowing in the rest an equal number during the second stanza. The knockout came after 1 minute and 45 seconds of the third round had elapsed.

Bowling Tournament Is On

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 28.—The second day of competition in the five-men division of the American Bowling Congress tournament tonight will see forty-eight teams in action. All of them are Toledo entries, divided into three squads of sixteen each.

Opening night scores were low, ranging from 2538 down to 2280 for three games. There will be no two-men and individual events today, competition in these divisions beginning tomorrow and continuing every day until the close of the tournament on April 21.

Ryan Says Hock Will Make Good

Ray Ryan, who has managed ball games and good ones for 20 years in talking about Eddie Hock's chances of making good with the Reds recently said:

Hock is another Ty Cobb in the making, in that he is a natural ball player in all departments of the game and that the Reds will eventually develop him into a star if he gets the opportunity to show his wares frequently.

Ryan And Shade In Draw

Billy Ryan and Dave Shade fought a slashing ten round draw in Cincinnati last night. Each fighter won four rounds and the other two were even. Ryan made a wonderful finish and was just as fresh as the proverbial daisy when the gong sounded at the close of the last round. It was a great fight and was witnessed by a great crowd.

Block Will Meet Champion Downey

DAWSON IN GOOD SHAPE

Jack Dawson sends word from Louisville that he is working out five and six hours each day and is going to be in fine trim for Blair. He has heard much about the latter and does not want to be caught napping. And he had better be in good shape. Nat said.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 28.—Bert Downey, of Cleveland, champion of the middleweight boxing championship of the world, and Ted Block of Detroit, will box ten rounds here March 13. It was announced today by R. G. Elvin, district athletic officer for the seventh congressional district of the American Legion, which has been awarded the next boxing date for this city. Downey and Block will weigh in at 160 pounds.

Selects Closed 'Em

The Huntington Herald Dispatch this morning said:

POKORNI WINS

Troop 3 Wins

One field basket won for Troop 3 of the First Presbyterian Church last night when they met Troop 16 of Allen Chapel in Whitelietta hall. The score was 21 to 19, a real heartbreaker to Troop 16 has not won a game this season and when they finished the first half 12 to 9 they thought they had the game on ice. Troop 3 had a stronger lineup last night than ever before. Millard starting with long shots. The Troop 3 boys played a tighter defensive game in the last half and kept the colored lads from getting close enough to shoot.

SANDISKY, O., Feb. 27.—Vincent Pokorni, Cleveland welterweight, appearing in his first fight in several years, outpointed Pat Kearney of Toledo in a no-decision, ten round bout here tonight. Kearney, badly beaten in the first three rounds, finished strong.

Jackson and Mason played a fine game for Troop 16. Mason covering the entire floor and fighting hard every minute of the game. Broadbeck made 9 points and led his team in scoring. The lineup and summary:

Mrs. Mougey Is Recovering

Friends here of Mrs. J. W. Mougey of Columbus will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Mougey is recovering from a serious surgical operation she underwent in Mt. Carmel hospital Columbus, February 22. The operating surgeon was Dr. Hamilton, regarded as one of the most skillful in Columbus.

Mrs. Davenport Loses Watch

British architect has invented a tank for catching dew and condensing it into drinking water.

Mrs. Terry Davenport had the misfortune last night to lose her gemmed wrist watch while she was entering the high school building. It has a U. S. Air Service insignia on the clasp as the watch was worn by her son, Boynton, during the war. She would appreciate the return of the watch.

More Than 400 Knights of Pythias Enjoy Local Session; Grand Officers Are Present

More than 400 Knights of Pythias were in attendance at the big meeting held by Magnolia Lodge K. of P. Monday night in Castle Hall. Big delegations of Knights were present from Waverly, Picketon, Stockdale, Olway, Sciotoville and Peerless, Ohio. The majority of the membership from Sciotoville and Peerless attended the big session when Dr. A. P. Truby, of Dover, O., Grand Chancellor of Ohio K. of P. was the honored guest. George T. Guler, Grand Trustee, was also present. Ralph Johnston acted as Grand Master of Arms and presented Dr. Truby and Mr. Guler. Both officers made talks Grand Chancellor Truby giving a talk on the anniversary of the founding of Pythianism. The lodge was founded 58 years ago and the speaker told in a very interesting manner the progress made by the Knights in these years.

FANS GETTING SET FOR ANOTHER GREAT BOXING SHOW NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT; CARD ATTRACTIVE

Blair and Dawson To Furnish Fireworks In The Main Bout

What promises to be one of the best boxing shows ever pulled off in the city is scheduled to take place in the Winter Garden starting at 8:30 next Friday night.

Of course, Nig Blair of this city and Jack Dawson of Louisville will draw most of the interest in their ten round go, but the rest of the card is filled with class and indications are that another record crowd will jam its way into the Winter Garden. Blair and Dawson are down to real training and each says he will win before the tenth round is tolled off. This kind of an argument makes for a fight and no doubt Blair and Dawson will supply it.

Much interest is also being centered in the eight round go between Frankie Ross of Huntington and George Chapman of this city. The latter is out to win by the proverbial wide margin and if he does he will have to go some as Ross is a very clever boy and a hard puncher. The first heavyweight contest pulled off here for a long time will be staged when Harve McGlothlin of this city meets one of Billy Ryan's heavies of Cincinnati. This bout alone should be worth the price of admission.

There are two other bouts on the attractive card.

SCIOTOVILLE AND P. H. S. READY FOR THE WHISTLE

Reds Will Get Away Next Sunday

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 28.—There will be seventeen in the party which will leave here next Sunday night for the training camp of the Cincinnati National League club at Mineral Wells, Texas. The party will include Manager Pat Moran, Catchers Hargrave and Lutz, Pitchers Rixey, Hall, Clarke, Markie, Scott, and Johnson; Outfielders Hogan, Burns, Duncan, Neale and Bressler, and Infielders Fonseca and Kimmick. Infielders Caveney and Pinelli and Pitcher Lough will go direct to Texas from their homes in California. Pitcher Lough will go from Havana. First Baseman Dabbert will go direct to the camp from his home in Schuylkillhaven and Catcher Wingo from his Georgia plantation. There also are other recruits who have not been heard from. Ed Roush, outfielder, has not yet signed, nor has Sam Bohne, second baseman, but Bohne and the club are expected to come to terms. Nothing further will be done in the case of Roush, one of the directors of the club said after a meeting of the club directors yesterday. This official said there will be no further inducements made to the outfielder and that he will not be traded in any circumstances.

Tomorrow night, in the P. H. S. gym, the Sciotoville high school boys meet the P. H. S. boys the second time this season. The first game was close and hard fought and was not decided until the last minute of play when the P. H. S. quintet won out. The Sciotoville boys have been practicing faithfully for their trip to the state basketball tourney at Ohio Wesleyan University and are in tip-top shape for tomorrow night's contest.

The P. H. S. five is also in fine shape, the Red and Blue representatives coming out of the Athens tournament last night without any injured players. The P. H. S. boys have been playing an entirely different brand of basketball since they first met Sciotoville and are now ready to show the S. H. S. team how a well organized high school five can play.

Coach Lowell Selby of Sciotoville will use Steadman and Powell at forward with Klinker as a sub at one of the two stations with Edwards at center and Courtney and Brown, guards, while Reinhardt will be ready to fill in at guard.

Coach Dan Fries will use Monk and Ellsesser at forward, Brunt at center and Flowers and Barkow at guard.

The game will start at 7 o'clock, sharp, on account of the ministerial show that is to be given in the high school auditorium at 8:15 o'clock. The price of admission will be 35 cents, no P. H. S. season tickets or student tickets acceptable, as Sciotoville is to get all the receipts. The game was first scheduled for Sciotoville, but as the gym there is too small to take care of a crowd it was decided to stage the game in the P. H. S. gym with Sciotoville taking all the "gate" receipts.

A FAVORABLE SIGN

STRAWs are supposed to tell which way the wind blows, and accepting this ancient saying as the truth, we must conclude that the growing postal receipts are an indication of improved business conditions.

It is reported that New York and forty-nine other cities show an increase of nearly one million dollars for the month of January as compared with the same month of last year. In New York City the receipts for last month were $4,364,185, which is a gain of more than 7 per cent. over the same month in 1921. These figures are not overwhelming, but they are gratifying because they show a constant improvement in business. The best part of it lies in the fact that the growth has been widespread and is not confined to any one section.

It is a dangerous thing to make predictions of any kind in this uncertain world, but it is not unreasonable to believe that the postal figures are a fair index to the general business situation. For some time each succeeding month has shown a growth in the receipts of the postoffices in most of the large cities. The most encouraging fact is that these modest gains have been made in spite of adverse circumstances. It is true that the results of the Washington conference have had a generally stimulating effect upon business, but that has been indirect rather than otherwise.

If the world-wide financial problems were solved we know that improvement would come with a rush and that it would only be a short time before we had unprecedented prosperity.

NO JOBS FOR LOVELORN

THOSE who still put their trust in the trite saying that it is love which makes the world go round and has made it whirl—sometimes a bit too rapidly—since the days in which it launched a thousand ships against Troy down to the days when Tennyson sang:

Thy face across his fancy comes
And gives the battle to his hands, will be surprised if not actually shocked to learn that to be in love disqualifies a man for service in the Los Angeles Railway Company.

But such is the dictum of the traveling safety supervisor of the railway, John C. Collins, who, in a warning issued to conductors and motormen, says it is better and safer for the public for them to lay off work while in love, just as much as when in any other trouble, both being an undesirable and unsafe state of mind for one who works.

Yet there is one comforting thing about the edict of Mr. Collins—it seems to encourage the Victorian idea of marriage, for he adds:

"When you're in love you're so far up in the air that you won't get down again until you are married."

Not unexpectedly a New York bride was the first to elope and be married in "knickerbockers." Are other cities going to sit down calmly under this dare?

A congressman charges Prohibition Commissioner Haynes with being a "disturber," notwithstanding that his department conducts still hunts.

The wages of sin are never cut.

There are too many rocking the new Irish ship of state.

Baseball stars have adopted the principle, "Ask and you may get it."

Now a Chicago "Ponzi" raked in $4,500,000. There is a new crop every day.

The trouble with falling in love is, you never can tell where you're going to land.

No doubt just as soon as we get rid of this slump in business we'll have a car shortage.

No bootlegger ever comes into court the second time who got what he deserved the first time.

Coroner Renders Open Verdict

The Ashland Independent says: "Identity of the man who killed John G. White, Jr., of Prospect Place today continues to be a baffling puzzle to the police. The case is as mysterious as it was on Saturday, the day his body was found in a pool of blood in the entrance way to the insurance office of Phipps & Thompson, Fifteenth street and Carter avenue. The only clue in the possession of the police is the gun with which the killing was done. The dead man's father swears that it was not his son's gun and that he had never seen it before. The coroner's inquest held yesterday morning failed to disclose any valuable evidence. The jury came to an open verdict, believing that the young man had come to his death at the hands of party or parties unknown."

THE WATERS OF THE FLOOD

IT came to pass after seven days that the waters of the flood were upon the earth. And the rain was upon the earth forty days and forty nights. The waters prevailed exceedingly and were increased greatly, and the mountains were covered. Every living substance was destroyed which was upon the face of the ground, both man, cattle and all creeping things and the fowl of the air. Noah and all in the Ark only remained alive. The waters were upon the earth a hundred and fifty days.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, February 28.—They are middle aged, weighty and phlegmatic as the Sphinx and under their eyes, like an odorous sponge, are the tell tale puffs of high life—the pace that brings scintillating hard on the heels of Youth. Broadway calls them men-about-town and society weeklies boulevardiers and quidnuncs.

About them is the false bloom of good fellowship. Ready check payers, prodigious senders of orchid bouquets and bon-bons and to those who play the price-buyers of fur coats and select apartments.

They rarely smile. When they do with a sardonic sort of grin as if to say: "The glass is at my lips, but the wine is far away!" They have lived hard and recklessly and now their lives are cluttered with dead, scentless roses. Their bon-bone a mask to hide Truth, ugly and stark.

Burnt out lives! Always seeking the crowds and the bubbling geyser. In the cafes they bring their painted, lined faces—knowing they come merely to ply the uncertain art of "gold digging." They seldom reply to the endless flapper chatter. Just sit with cryptic face and immobile gaze.

The fact is nothing interests—so they chase the rainbow of promise that hangs over the glibrous, gilded paths of the White Way. Impeccable of dress, barbaled two or three times a day, they roam from cafe to cafe, from theatre to theatre and club to club hunting the elusive thrill that never comes.

Their business is vaguely described as "being in the street." Offices merely to receive their claustrophobic mail and telephone calls. Most of them were born to wealth, rotted at college and then cast adrift with fat check books. Soaring spectacularly for a time they wind up walking graveyards of dead estates and dead dreams.

Comes old age—and inevitable gout. A cloistered life in a club or gloomy private house with phantoms of the past. Along Broadway if one comes to stoop and read the sunken headstones they will find the chiseled tribute: "They were good fellows."

In the '60s Fulton street and Broadway formed New York's busiest corner. At times it was completely congested by stages and carts and the only man who was given right of way through the traffic was Peter Cooper, who used to pass there driving his old chaise on his way down town.

More traffic now passes Forty-second street and Fifth Avenue in an hour than passed Fulton and Broadway in two days in the '60s. An old timer recalls the busiest day

Fulton and Broadway ever had was the day Kate Fisher, the equestrian actress, rode over the Fulton street bridge, mounted on her horse Black Bess. She was playing Mazepa at the Old Bowery theatre at the time. The old down town section is no more. Only Trinity and St. Paul's remain. About the only familiar object left is the famous little drug store in Nassau street with the ancient sign in the window: "Tape-worms removed while you wait."

Speaking of the Hollywood affair, which most people are doing, Baird Leonard, the female columnist of the Morning Telegraph remarks: "Murder doesn't cut as much as it used to." And the top-page screaming headline over a special story from Hollywood in a saffron journal reads: "Filmland's Dirt!" The Hollywood affair brings to me one glint of the silver lining, however. I rejoice that I never became a movie fan. At my age I have lost too many illusions already.
